Our themed tea...a step back in time ...

Join in as we explore the possibilities of the traditional afternoon tea. A special occasion anytime, it makes a wonderful theme to step back in time for an afternoon. Use your imagination as we travel back to the year 1859 and visit, interact and play with the Bosworth sisters. They'll give you a close up view of the day in the life of a Victorian Lady while interacting with your group, as at certain moments the audience become part of the play-let as you're shown the "secrets" of the parasol, the fan and how to communicate without saying a word all part of the traditions of the Victorian Era.

Get into the spirit of the theme and wear your favorite chapeau, shawl, jewelry or whatever assists you into the theme or "costume" of the day. So let's play as the sisters entertain with history, humor and gossip of the time as well as being dressed in the "costumes" of the era.
